

American Rose Society Outstanding Consulting Rosarian Requirements

The Outstanding Consulting Rosarian Award is the highest District Award given to Consulting Rosarians for their work. The award may also be awarded by the American Rose Society.

- All nominees must be American Rose Society members.
- All nominees must actively take part in a local society of the District for which the award is given (or, if the person has moved away, he/she must have taken an active part in a local society of the District for at least six months of the previous year).
- The Award can be given posthumously, provided he/she must have taken an active part in the local society of the District for at least six months of the previous year.
- All nominees should have been active Consulting Rosarians for ten years. This includes, but is not limited to:
 - Participation in Local and District Society activities (such as rose clinics, speaking/presenting at meetings, authoring articles for newsletters, serving on Local and District Society Boards, etc.)
 - Demonstration of competency in all knowledge areas of local rose culture.
 - Serve as a faculty member of a Consulting Rosarian School/Audit or Rose Culture Workshop.
 - Demonstration of a willingness to share knowledge with people who show interest.
 - Wholehearted support of the American Rose Society.
- The Outstanding Consulting Rosarian Award should be considered a lifetime achievement and only awarded to an individual once.
- Call for nominations goes out to the Prizes and Awards Committee Members of the local societies in March. The committee consults with their local Boards of Directors and/or Local Consulting Rosarian Coordinator(s) for suggested nomination(s).
- Nominations are received back, compiled, and sent to the District Consulting Rosarian Chair for approval of eligibility.
- A separate committee selects the recipient. This committee consists of:
 - District Director
 - District Consulting Rosarian Chair(s)
 - District Chair of Prizes and Awards
- Prizes and Awards Committee Members and appointed District Board Members are eligible for the award.

The Outstanding Consulting Rosarian Award is presented to the recipient at the Annual District Convention.
